“ My sixth grade teacher at Samuel Everitt Elementary School in 1967-68 was Clifford Berry. He had more of a positive impact on me than any other teacher. I'm sorry that his wife has passed away, but I know he loved her very much and am happy they are together. What wonderful people!

“ We just found out about Mrs. B this morning when I tried to call to invite her out. We had the joy of knowing her from the Levittown Wesleyan Church. We maintained contact via phone and visits. It was always a delight to spend time with her! I'm sure she is delighting in her Savior's presence as she did here, but now all encumbrance, pain and weights are gone. I miss you, my dear Mrs. B!

“ Marie taught me much about embracing life, and living life to its fullest! To know Christ, and her commitment to follow Him, was her deepest heart's desire. I had the privilege to have been a home care provider for Marie weekly, over the past 10 years. As my living example, Marie taught me much about growing old gracefully, and living it well until the end! Although her body presented itself with some limitations, her spirit spoke volumes of a strong faith and trust in her loving Father God. She lived out every day with, "eternity in view!" Her relationships while here on earth, were lived as "divine appointments" from the Lord. Each one of us who knew and loved Marie, were touched in those precious encounters with Marie's zeal for life through her love and laughter. In spending time with Marie, one would leave, being inspired. Marie knew her Shepherd, and that she could trust Him in all the details of her life. As her Shepherd received her into heaven, I believe she heard her Shepherd tenderly say, "Well done, my good and faithful servant...now you may enter into the joy of the Lord!"
