“ Rich~I was so sad to hear/read this news! I hadn't seen Adam since he was a kid [maybe 10 or 11? - you had the boys in the office one day maaaany moons ago - if I recall, they were helping deliver the fundraising goods that coworkers ordered from one (or both) of them...which I thought was awesome!]. In any case, my heart breaks for you, your wife and Matthew - and aches too for Adam's extended family. In times like these, no words seem adequate so I will simply pray. I pray that Adam knew the God who created him in a personal way and I pray for each of you to be comforted and find peace and strength in each new day of your grief journey.As you adjust to life without Adam's physical presence, may you find extra measures of peace, strength and renewed joy as you recall the many fond memories with which Adam's life blessed you!Best and blessings,

“ So many threads that make up the tapestry of a life... Adam, I will always remember you fondly and smile warmly when I do. I could not begin to count the times we went to miniature golf at Yogi's, the sleepovers, family trips, etc... for so many years you were part of our family and you will be missed. May God grant you eternal rest, dear son.
