“ She had a hug that would squeeze the breath out of you especially if you did not see her in awhile. Dad and Aunt Dolly I'm sorry for the lost. They both will be missed. Love you all!

“ As one of her granddaughters, you learn a lot from her and sometimes you don't even realize she was teaching you. The day I stopped over to tell her I would be starting my doctorate degree - she asked me if I would be coming over to check up on her and Pappy. When I explained I wouldn't be a medical doctor - we laughed and she asked what would you be then? To this day, I'm not sure she fully understood what I was doing. Rest in peace, Grandma, I love you. ~Beth
