“ Since I heard the news I've been racking my brain to find the correct words of encouragement and sympathies...but alas, none come to mind. What can I say about your sweet by who was taken from this world, from you...I thoroughly enjoyed the days he would come to clinic because that meant I would see his shiny smile. We would play hide and seek and he would eat a million dum-dums. I pray your family that is not left to go on. For little Savannah who has lost her playmate. For and mom and dad who yearns for their son. He was a very courageous and outstanding little guy. I am so blessed to have been a very small part of his life. He has truly blessed my life and I'm sure the lives of everyone who he has met. Always,
Amanda
