“ My dad and Dennis not only worked together at events, but also would spend time together listening to bluegrass. My favorite memory has to be when they were on break at Hershey at the red light just outside the employee parking. It was a very hot day so after I got off work I went down the road to turkey hill and got everyone slushies, I still remember his face light up in joy and we all sat there talking.

“ Denis and his wife where my neighbors as a child. I remember the blizzard of 95-96 how helped us dig a tunnel from our porch to the middle of the road and turned it into and igloo and sat around a small fire inside igloo...RIP Denis
