“ Dolores and I worked together on the Mission Committee at St. Andrews Presbyterian Church. I hadn't been an active member of the church during my working years although I attended church regularly. So I knew Dolores from afar! I knew she was a friendly member of the church and a " worker bee".

I was elated to see her name on the list of mission committee members since I was the Elder and committee chair. I got to know her well and considered her a good friend. As a committee member she was somewhat quiet and unassuming but was always willing to help with committee projects. As time went on I got to know her well and realized she was a good christian lady as well as a selfless person who cared more about helping others than she did about herself.

She was an outstanding member of the mission committee as she did everything possible to advance the work of the committee. Whether it was offering prayer at a meeting, suggesting a new project, working on the shoebox ministry, or making announcements in church on Sunday mornings; she was always ready to do whatever had to be done...always with a smile!

Dolores was one special lady who will be remembered for years to come. I will miss her as will many others and I pray for her comfort and peace. God Bless my friend Dolores!

Sincerely, Joy Eubanks

“ I have so many memories of my 33 years of knowing Dolores. Lots of them include Rocky and George. We put lots of miles on those hooves. We laughed so much when we did something stupid and tried to think of what the horses were thinking about us. Summers we would be at the barn at 6:30 am and be saddled and ready by 7 and we would ride for two or three hours. In winter we would ride in the afternoon and Dolores would say “why can’t we have a hot flash when we need one?” We went everywhere together..church, choir, meetings....so much so that people called me Dolores and her Sandy. Some thought we were sisters. I would have loved her to be my sister. Then she became my Cinderella story when she and Tom fell in love. I missed her terribly but I was so happy for her. We continued to eat out every other Tuesday with Kay and Shirley and then Ruth. We did that for about 15 years. May God comfort Tom, Todd, Morgan, Allysa, Cort, Keith and Tess. Dolores wanted her boys to be close and all of her family to know Jesus so she would see them all again in Heaven. I will see her soon.
