“ Thanks for all the great memories Ed. I enjoyed coming up to your place and watching you build and paint your model, mid and high power rockets. Also meeting with and hanging out with you at the different rocket meets. I admired your craftsmanship, something I could never duplicate. Thankyou for being my friend.

“ Just heard about Ed's passing. My thoughts and prayers of comfort go to Ed's family. I knew Ed through our mutual love of Rocketry. He was an awesome modeler and built/flew incredible projects. But my most enduring memory is that Ed was a truly nice Guy...always willing to answer questions or just simply talk about Rockets. RiP Ed. From Dave Weber and your friends at MDRA

“ I only learned of Ed's passing this morning. My sincere condolences.
In rocketry, among other talents Ed was a designer of Monocopters, which are one-winged plying machines that fly upwards while rotating like a maple-seed going backwards. They are unusual flying devices and Ed made some of the largest ones. His picture is also in my book "Monocopters" published in 1999 sold by Apogee Components. We had not corresponded about monocopters for a small while, but I will miss his experience and knowledge.

“ I always had a good time talking rockets and painting with Ed at our rocket launches. His moncopters were the most unusual thing to see fly. He will be sorely missed at SPAAR rocket launches in the future. Rest in peace my friend. Punch a hole in the sky.

“ I was shocked to hear of Ed's passing. Of all of my memories, the best are of the Jonestown gang taking our cars to cruise the loop on the weekends. That was over 40 years ago. As time passed, I would see Ed less and less, but occasionally our paths would cross and when he would be in his prized Camaro it would take me back to those days long ago. Good times! Fast Eddy, rest in peace, my friend. You were taken far too soon. My thoughts and prayers are with the family.
