“ While he was in the Service, Ed was dating my daughter, Pam. Her senior prom was coming and Ed was not sure he wanted to go because "he could not afford a tux". I told him his dress uniform is proper attire for any formal occasion. I wore a chauffeur's hat and blazer and chauffeured them to the dance in my Cadillac. They were the "hit" of the prom. The world has lost a fine young man, a husband, father and a brave warrior. Rest in peace, Ed.
