“There’s a quote that says, “Always speak the truth, even if your voice shakes”. Well the truth is, I miss my mom, and my voice may certainly shake today.

“Death is not the end of life. Forgetting is.”

As I was scrolling through Facebook on the morning after mom’s passing, these were the words I read in a clothing ad. I thought, “how fitting are these words at this moment?” Was it a sign from her? To never forget? Perhaps. But how could we ever forget such a beautiful soul?

My mom taught me all the things a mother typically teaches her daughter, but most importantly she taught me how to be a kind, compassionate and honest person. She taught me to never give up on my dreams. She taught me to be strong and have courage. She taught me to respect others and to try to see the good in everyone. She is why I am the woman I am today and I couldn’t be more proud to be her daughter.

I remember always laughing with my mom. Buddy and I would always joke around with her as kids. She liked when we would reminisce and tell her stories that we remembered from our childhoods. Most of the time she would say, “how do you remember that?!” I remember a specific time (one of many) that I think she’d enjoy hearing; I was doing the dishes and struggling to get a pot clean and she told me to “put some elbow grease into it”. I naively started looking under the sink for this so-called elbow grease. After a few minutes of me searching she finally asked me what I was doing. I said “I’m looking for the elbow grease”. She started laughing, and well that’s when I learned what “elbow grease” meant. She taught me that it’s okay to laugh at myself sometimes.

I will never forget her unconditional love and support. Her warm hugs. The way she would run her fingers through my hair. Family Thanksgivings and Christmas holidays were the best! Watching TV or movies together. Our shopping trips. Our talks. The list goes on and on.

Whether it's a silly childhood memory or remembering how she would always respond with, "I love you more" at the end of our phone calls — we will remember her.

My mom was taken from us far too soon and she will be missed immensely. But she will always live on in all of us, because we will Never Forget.

“ I have so many fond memories of Elaine. THE very best line team at Bayer was Line 3, in 2006ish. Every time there was a task to do, the whole line team would put their finger on their nose and Elaine was last every time. "now what are you guys makin' me do?!" :o) Sending strength and prayers to all the family in the loss of a very much loved one.

“ My dear old friend, Elaine. We met when we were only around 13 years old. My parents got divorced and my dad was renting a little house on a small street in North Lebanon. As a nice surprise, you and your family lived just 2 doors down with you being around my age, your sister being around the same age as my 2 sisters and your brother that was around the same age as my 2 brothers. We hit it off right away and had so many fun times together.... we were best friends. At one point I moved in with my dad and attended Northern Lebanon High School with you when I was in my sophomore year. It was nice having my best friend there in a new school.

Fond memories such as swimming at Lions Lake, and swimming in the 'Swattie' at Mish's Mill; going to the Key Drive-In in Lebanon; making up dance routine's at Pat's house and learning every word of every song of the latest rock and roll hits from the 45's you would buy often at Sunset. We loved music and we loved to sing and dance and make up dance routines. We would build illustrious tents in my dads backyard in the summer with blankets draped on the clothes lines... complete with extension cords to have lights, a fan and of course your record player. My dad took us to many places when he would have us on the week-ends, including Gettysburg, Roadside America, The Harrisburg Museum, Longwood Gardens and other places and I'm sure you were along to all or most of the places we went.

One of our favorite memories was when we went to Baltimore one time with my dad in a station wagon and he talked us into making hot dogs on a little mini grill in the back of the station wagon while he drove around trying to find his way around Baltimore. Yep, hot coals in a mini grill cooking up weiners in a moving vehicle. That was a good one. lol

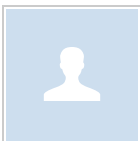

We would walk around 'the block' often in the summer, and stop sometimes to get a drink of nice cold water at the natural spring on Water St. with a metal pipe protruding from the bank. Your cousin

Stan had a rock-n-roll band down the street that would practice in his parents basement and this is where I met my future husband who was the bass player in the band. You were in my first wedding and I was in your first wedding. We would enjoy having parties and attending parties. You were a Temp at Reese's when I worked there in the 90's before you went to Bayer. We drifted apart over the years and were busy with our lives and our families. I was glad we got to reconnect on facebook and around 7 years ago, we met at Ruby Tuesday's with our 2 sisters and had a nice time catching up. We also met around 20 years ago at Golden Corral to catch up. I'm going to attempt to attach a few photos from these meetings.

You are a big part of my life, my past, and I cannot believe you are gone. I'm so sorry you had to go through all you went through, my dear old friend. But I am glad you are now with Jesus and have no more pain. I will never forget you or all the fun times we had together. Till we meet again, Elaine... Love, Judy
