“ My deepest, heartfelt sympathy to you Sage and your family. I always loved hearing his many stories. We have a lot of wonderful memories. It seems fitting to light a rose colored candle for Bill since he so loved the pink nail polish. You are in my continuous thoughts and prayers. Bill will always be with you ❤️

“ My dearest sweet Sage, I will always remember the friendship we all shared. I cannot say sorry in the right manner because I simply do not have words to satisfy the grief everyone feels. Bill was an amazing man: devoted dad, grandpop, friend but mostly an amazing, loving, respectful, trusting husband. I always admired the two of you. I love you Sage. I will always remember silly things about us. Know my heart is with you. Please call me anytime, my beloved, forever friend. Blessings to all of your family!

“ My Father was a force to be reckoned. From as far back as i can remember he had always loved me whole heartedly (trust me i didnt always make it easy). From "noelle sandwiches" where he'd squish me between him and my mom, to tickle fights with "little man" and "the tickle monster". He used to always tell me to "point to the light" and then tickle my underarm like no tomorrow, for some reason i always fell for that trick, every single time, leaving me in tears from laughing so hard. He would take me to pennstate games and We'd listen to Jewel, Fleetwood Mac, Sting, The Police, Foreigner. All Amazing artists who will forever remind me of the love of my father. He was a kick ass pageant dad and damn good grandpa an ever better daddy. I have so many amazing memories with my father and It pains me to know he wont be telling jokes with his REDICULOUSLY dry sense of humor anymore. Ill spend these days not crying hes gone, but laughing and celebrating the life he had. I think he would've wanted it that way anyways. I don't think hed want me to "mope" around (his words).....

Love you dad, forever and for always.

So true, Noelle, so true. You made your daddy very proud over the last two years. Keep up the good work and remember how he loved you unconditionally. Make sure Ella Rose knows about her grandpa and what a wonderful man he was. I know he'll be up there routing for you. Do the right things so Ayden, Dalilah and Ella Rose can look back one day and say what an awesome mother you were. XOXO
