“ I remember her in an Egg Queen (Hinkelfest?) competition. They had built a modern hen house a few years before. They had an old type hen house weth stalls and straw. When being interviewed, she used the term "hunt the eggs". The interviewer jumped on that. Janet was embarassed and lost the competition. She was always nice to me. (a smart-ass younger cousin).

“ Greg and Jill, i am so sorry for you to lose your Mom. I was very close to her, and we had a lot of fun, shopping, baking (she was the Queen of chocolate cake with peanut butter icing!!) and just chatting over the years. She loved plants and flowers as much as i did.
I know she's in a better place now, but it still hurts all of us to think of her not on earth.
I know you were both there for her throughout her illness. And she knew how much you cared. I hope that brings you some comfort.
