“ I'm so sorry to hear of the loss of Janice. I believe your family worked hard to help the parents and Janice was a patient that would not have complained. You all did your best and she is being rewarded. We will all join her someday. Back to the early days; When we were very young we loved to get together and play esp. at their house. The mother Marian had things to play with, seemed always a play house, or at least a play room, and 1sr it was my sister Fern and I, then our brother Ken and Eunice joined. I'm so glad for a few pictures from that time given by Lois, and Esther's mother cause we played on the farm, too before Ammon's family moved to Haycock area. But, when we moved to Haycock area I was 8th grade, I don't think we were playing the same any more, but we enjoyed getting together and then being active in the youth group and other church things. Our girls chorus was a good thing for all us girls and we all liked it and being together, we had some good rich teaching at Haycock thru our leaders and teachers and what we ourselves learned to do. I did also learn that Evelyn Detweiler had died about last year. I remember good and fun times with her; both of us being the only 2 girls our age in the same SS class at Haycock. Our lives moved in different circles and we kind of lost track of each other for quite a few years until we moved back closer to the area again, but still saw very little of each other. Sunday afternoons with a service in the PM was a good time to invite someone home to our house or get invited to someone else's and those times were enjoyable, too. I remember the times I was invited to Evelyn's house, it was always neat, everything was in it's place. With 8 of us at our house things were not always where they should be and I noticed things like that, too. I'm glad to have had the friends I did and the remembrances, too. Blessings at this time to your family and to Ernest who is having a new experience of losing a mate. I hope you can feel the presence of the Lord in your life as Janice is feeling new experiences in Heaven.

“Janice was my Haycock friend up the road. Her curly red hair, her smile and her kindness have stayed with me. We met occasionally through the years and always there was a shared warmth and love. I send my prayers and thoughts to you, her family. She is at peace with her Creator in the presence of many of our loved ones. Comfort and strength to you,

“I extend sincere condolences to the family of Janice on her passing. I pray for you to find peace and comfort in God as you navigate the grieving process without her physical presence here on earth. She is now resting in the arms of Jesus, whom she loved very much.
