“ I remember when I was little, packing my grandma bag and putting on my grandma glasses to go spend time with grandma. She always had a way of making me feel special. During the holidays, whenever she made cookies, she would always make me a big, special cookie. She even mailed me Christmas cookies to college one year. At my sister's wedding, when she made some food for the reception, she made sure to bring down a little dish of carrot salad for me because she knew how much I loved it. No matter how old I got, whenever I came to visit, she would always say "How's my girl" and give me a big smile. Even though she was my grandma, we still had some pretty funny jokes, like when we joked about me getting a job as a stripper. Even when she didn't necessarily agree with what I did, she still always stood by me, like when I got a tattoo. I remember Aunt June was telling me how terrible it was for getting jobs and grandma said, "Well I like it" and smiled at me. You're the reason I learned to laugh in tough situations. You also helped my mom become the woman she is today which is why we all have so much love in our hearts. You could never be forgotten because everything you have taught us will live on through generations. I love you with all my heart grandma.
