“ I had been thinking about Lee Ann for some time, and am saddened to do a search for her on the internet today and find her obituary. The last time I spoke with her was in January 2012, when she was trying to figure out a way to come to my wedding in California. Although she wasn't able to, we always had a good time together when we could meet up. She was my good counsel, and fun partner on organizing jobs. I will miss her and know that life on the other side has the benefit of her bright smile and spirit. Let the angels take care of you, dear Lee Ann.

“ Dear Mrs. Kleinfelter: My name is Jerry Stussy. I knew Lee Ann from Drexel. In fact you welcomed me into your home in Jonestown just after my graduation in 1976. I was saddened to read about her passing in the Drexel alumni magazine. Though we didn't date for long, I have fond memories of her sweetness, kindness and warmth. She was one of the best listeners I've met in my lifetime. I am so sorry for your loss. Take solace in knowing that she had a lasting positive impact on me and many, many others. Warm regards, Jerry Stussy

“ My heart is heavy with the news of Lee Ann's passing. She was an angel to me in a difficult time of my life, providing me with a job and a place to live. Her calm strenght will always be an inspiration to me. Although we did not get to know each other well, personally, she touched my life in a big way. Peace and blessings to her family.

“ Dear Betty, Lynn, and Lynda- I was so sorry to hear this news when my Mom called tonight. While it has been many years since I saw Lee Ann, It seems like yesterday that I saw her great smile and heard her infectious laugh. What a beautiful person, and someone who made such a big impression on others. I loved our trip to Spain in high school together and still have a good picture of Lee Ann from that time. My heart goes out to you during this time of deep sadness. Dorinda Dove

“ Lee Ann is a wonderful person, who was strong in spirit and always full of happy energy. Her smile, bright eyes and laughter would light up the world and bring a smile to those around her. She was full of adventure and curiosity, and would often exclaim, "What's over there? Let's go check it out!" I have many fond memories of Lee Ann, and I am so deeply saddened by her passing away. I will miss Lee Ann dearly. I pray that her family and friends will be comforted by fond memories of her, held by everyone whose life was made better by Lee Ann. I love you Lee Ann.
