“ I have played clarinet in the Washington Band since 1981. For many of those years, Jack manned the drums right behind me. I remember him laughing, every time we played this one particular number, because he had a big cymbal crash, & it always scared me! I'd always holler & jump, & he always laughed. He was a kind man, with a jolly sense of humor & a ready smile. He was always kind & friendly to me in the band, even when I was just a youngster. I will always remember him fondly, & wanted to express my sympathy for your loss. Donna (Kreamer)Felder
