“gram, you will forever be remembered for your strength and courage to always speak your mind. You have taught me to always take care of your husband. Feed him home cooked.meals!! ;)... You always had the upmost respect from everyone in our family. When everyone thought you would be ashamed of me because of a choice i made you werent.. You loved because god showed you how to love and you cared because you didnt know know how to turn your.back.on family.. theres sooo much more i could write but it would be a never ending note.. so glad your not in pain anymore and your home free dancing with pap and the rest of gods angels. i love you grammy!! Rest in peace!!

“ I met John Marinkov in 1962 and Mary shortly thereafter. She was a loyal friend for 50 years. Her unwavering support and concern for me and my husband will not soon be forgotten. So Mary, until we meet again, and we will meet again, give John a kiss and hug for me, and rest with the angels.
