“ From Lt. John & Joyce Shea : To all of Mark's (the 'Chief' to us) family, we are very saddened to just learn of his death this past June. The Chief gave me away at our wedding nearly 50 years ago in Anchorage, Alaska. He was a mentor to John in personnel management, as well as a friend and colleague. Even though John was commissioned in the Quartermaster corp, the Chief noticed his potential in personnel. His first question to John was, " How would I like to work in my college major?" and pointed to the empty desk next to him. John stayed as personnel officer until the S4 rotated to Viet Nam. John depended on the Chief during his year tenure for his expertise and guidance. If the Chief's and Post commander's support was indicative of the total military, John would now be retired from the Army! We kept in touch with the Chief, and always noticed his positive attitude toward life even through difficulties. He is very fondly remembered by us and we're certain by many, many others.
