“ I first met Mike in the Royal Rangers ministry and was impressed by this man of God. He was a good friend and he helped a lot of boys in the Ranger program. I had the privilege of co teaching with him several times and was inspired by his mentorship and friendship. I would see he and Shelly at church on Sundays and despite his failing health he always was glad to see me, and I him. I will sorely miss him, but I know now he has a glorified body, no pain, and is sitting with his Savior. I am a little jealous. By Mike, see you soon.

“ My name is Eric Betsch and I was at Rehrersburg Teen Challenge from July 2002 to February 2003.... by far the best experience while I was there was having your dad not only as my boss but as my mentor... he took me under his wing taught me what it means to be a man of God to be truthful to yourself and transparent before Godwe would take the ride everyday to the post office and stop for coffee on the way homeand that was some of the most precious time that I spent when I was there ..and he would teach me these little Pearls of Wisdom about how to go forward when I left Teen Challenge..... when I graduated not only did he pay for my completion certificate but he gave me a Bible... a men of integrity Study Bible that I still have and used today.... and when my nephew was going through his struggles with drugs and was in a program I bought him the very same Bible... they are precious precious memories for me and even now 16 years later I know that a great deal of the credit for the success that I've had in fulfilling this walk up to now and not turning back to the life I had before was not only Jesus Christ and the power of the Holy Spirit but the people he put in my path to show me that there was a better way and how to walk it and one of the most important people by far was Mike Carnegie..... I will never forget him and I've had many opportunities to share my testimony since then and will surely have many more in the years to come and know that your father's name is mentioned in everyone as a turning point in my life and in my walk with God.... but it wasn't just me there were many many more that came through those doors in the mail room before me and after me and if they were smart they listened when Mike Carnegie talked. Your father and husband had a profound impact on countless men just like me who's path he crossed and who he took the time to get to know and to listen to and who he shared his wisdom with and equipped them to go forward in their lives and minister and mentor to those men God put in their path
