“ I first met Mac at Fort Indiantown gap. We worked in the same department and you could always count on a laugh or two when he entered the room. My spouse and I had the privilege of visiting Nancy and Mac at their home at Raystown lake. We had big plans for fishing, but the boat had plans of its own. Just couldn't seem to get its motor going, but we still managed to catch a little sunny or two. Wishing you many a good fishing day, a great race, and all the things you have not been able to enjoy lately. Heaven has it all and now it has you. Rest in peace. Nancy, I love you and I am praying for you and your family.

“ Mac & I served in 2 USAR units together in the 80s & 90s. We spent quite a few times together over the years, I could not have asked for a better friend & fellow NCO to have served with. He helped me numerous times over our years together with both personal and professional things.

God bless you Mac & thank you for the memories & friendship, I'll always think of you when I think of or hear building 9-9 or Ft.

Indiantown Gap mentioned 🙏👍

Say hi to Ron & tell him to stop running during tornado warnings 🌀

“ My thoughts are with Nancy & all the kids at this difficult time. I remember when Mike was born and how excited & delighted my mother was that Uncle Bill & Aunt Dot chose to name him Michael Patrick. She thought Michael Patrick MacNamara was the perfect Irish name! And I recall August 1967 when he was stationed in NJ & showed up unannounced at my husband's and my apartment door in Philadelphia. He didn't expect to find us in the process of moving to a different apartment. So instead of an evening of food, fun & relaxation, he spent his time off the base moving furniture and lugging cartons. He was a good sport about it! I know you will miss him but I know you have good memories too.
