“ Every Single Day

Every single day I wake up and remind myself that you are no longer on this earthly plain.

Every single day I wake up and remind myself that you're voice I will not hear

Every single day I wake up and remind myself that the sound of your laughter is gone forever

Every single day I wake up and remind myself that your hugs are not here.

But wait,

I see a daughter with her son and daughter, going through her day so very much like you, working, cooking, cleaning, enjoying friends and family, always ready to love the life she was given.

I see, another daughter living life to her fullest always questing for new and thrilling things to enjoy in her life never forgetting that she is loved by her family forever every single day.

I see, another daughter with her husband and her children, living life as a mother and spouse taking care of hearth and home with her church family and her blood family always close at heart.

I hear and see the many friends along the way that have a story or thought to share and I hear in their voices and hear in their laughter all the memories of a life well lived.

Every single day I wake up and I will remember that your spirt is here and I smile

Every single day I wake up and I will remember your voice and will hear it in your children and especially your grandchildren.

Every single day I wake up and I will remember and hear your laughter in the wind from all those who have loved you

Every single day I wake up and I will remember with feeling the hugs in my heart from all the memories and life that we shared

AND EVERY SINGLE DAY I WILL FEEL BLESSED TO HAVE BEEN YOUR SISTER! I LOVE YOU NORA and MISS YOU!

“ So God gave me the ability to write poems. So I wrote and read one at Cousin Noras funeral today. First I would like to note I was the flower girl at Cousin Noras wedding and I know everyone recognized me today because I still look the same. Haha.. The poem I wrote titled My Cousin Nora: In Nora you could always find a kind word, In her ear you knew you would be heard, She had a caring heart, you could tell, when you met her right from the start. Her love for others ran deep and into you her love would seep. You could not help but feel that love, a love intricately woven from the one true God above. Imagine he love us ever more than that, Only God knows what he has in store for the Nora we love and adored. May God help carry us through in the loving way only he can do. May he help us endure until we are within forever more. Even so Lord Jesus Come. With Love your forever Flower Girl!

“ Nora was my maid of honor at my wedding . I have many fun childhood memories of our time together especially at the progressive playground. She was an excellent ping pong player. I never could beat her, not even close! When Patrick and I moved to North Carolina she went along and helped us move. She loved her girls and her grand children. She will be deeply missed and never forgotten. Godspeed dear friend and cousin. Love always, Nancy

“ Nora always made you welcome. Nora when she was dating Kevin took me to my first roller skating at Mt Gretna. She always loved to play 500 rum. When you were out and about, Nora seemed to know everyone by name. How she could remember everyone I do not know. We went to Hershey Park once a year and she always got cotton candy and a funnel cake. She enjoyed the rides and the shows that we went to. We went to Reading to see Cher, and had to stand most of the time, as no one wanted to sit for quite some time. I filmed her at the bank, giant, and verizon, along with her driving on occasion. While she worked at Penn National Race Course she neglected to tell me that one of the girls in the office new Gordie Howe and he came out there a few times. People would ask Nora what do you do at Penn National. She would tell them she is a jockey. Of course Joe came out with, "Yes on the clydesdales" and everyone got a laugh out of that. We had some family gatherings/picnics at Nora & Kevin's and everyone enjoyed the food and games, especially the water balloons. Nora also went to some Hershey Bears games with me and then later took her girls to them. She loved to see Christmas Lights, in Bernville, and Hershey's. She liked to dance, bake, and let's not forget that Ninja Warrior Party. She was proud of her girls Michelle, Jill and Jamie. Nora pushed to get main streaming in NLHS. Her and Kevin helped with the band, and got to go to Ireland with them. She looked forward to breakfast at Joe and Janes house every Saturday morning for numerous years and to play cards with Uncle John. Nora played ping pong (Table Tennis) at progressive playground and won the championship one year. She started Joe with ping pong. She got me to take swimming lessons in Fredericksburg. She loved going to Ollies, she could spend hours in the store. One time Michelle and I left while she was in store and we went to other stores and came back, and Nora was not done yet. Nora orchastrated the big cheer at the Lebanon Junior High for Jamie and the band. We will miss her chatter and phone calls. I am sure she is playing cards with John and Judy, and looking down at us and smiling.

“ I met Nora when she came to work at FNB. She had a heart of gold and she was a wonderful co worker. We had lots of laughs on the late shift. We continued to be friends after she left us to work elsewhere. We would go out for lunch or breakfast. We went on some sightseeing drives after or before we ate a few times. Nora really enjoyed our drives and meals together and I did also. Nora called me about 3 weeks ago and told me we were going out to breakfast after new Year.
