“ My aunt Rosalie was like a second grandmother to me. When my family and I would go up to Pennsylvania growing up, I would say I wanted to live there. I think a big reason for that was her! ❤️ Aunt Rosalie and I would talk on the phone occasionally as well, and I loved hearing her thick Pennsylvania accent! She was one of my favorite people to talk to. She was incredibly loving, generous, strong, feisty, and quick-witted. Although I hated sleeping in the cold basement on the hard floor mattress, her home was like home to me. It was a place of nostalgia and living in the moment. I can still remember the smell, the pictures on the wall, and the kitchen window where I would recall Easter egg hunts and wonder why she still had a clothesline! She was more than family—she was like a warm cozy blanket or a close friend who you can talk to about anything and everything. In the words of Winnie the Pooh, “We didn’t realize we were making memories, we just knew we were having fun.” And that is how I’ll always remember her.
