

Ruth A. Morrissey

February 12, 1934 - February 3, 2017

Ruth A. Morrissey, 82, of Lebanon passed away on February 3, 2017 holding her granddaughter's hand. She was the wife of Joseph V. Morrissey, with whom she celebrated 56 years in marriage. Ruth was born in Lebanon on February 12, 1934 to the late Lester and Helen Spitler Kreiser. Ruth was a bookkeeper in numerous industries, and had once worked at the Pentagon. She was a former member of Tabor United Church of Christ and more recently had been attending Quentin United Church of Christ. She was in the choir when she was a member of Tabor UCC, she was also on the altar committee, taught Sunday school, was a member of the Gardenia class, and helped with numerous church functions. She took pride in and was an active member of Daughters of the American Revolution. She enjoyed singing, going out to eat, playing the piano and organ, traveling, gardening, and taking care of all kinds of animals. She raised her daughter and then her grandchildren, and loved them fiercely, and they were the apple of her eye. It's difficult to put in to words the true character of this strong woman who took care of many. Surviving in addition to her husband is a daughter, Linda M. Morrissey of Frystown, grandchildren, Wade Felty of Lebanon, Christina Felty of Australia, and Schuyler Felty of Lebanon, a sister Pauline Keller, and her husband Irvin in Lebanon.
