

Sara E. DeJesus

December 24, 1965 - December 28, 2017

Sara E. Miller-DeJesus (Nissley), 52, of Palmyra PA passed away on December 28, 2017 surrounded by her family and friends. She is survived by her husband Carlos DeJesus, her three sons Jordan, Quincy, Cole Nissley and their father Rodney Nissley. She is also survived by her brother Michael Miller, and sisters Cindy Engle and Barbara Colver. She worked as a licensed practical nurse, doing home healthcare for Amedisys and Pediatric Services of America for a number of years, but more recently working at the Hershey Medical Center's Cancer Institute in the Clinical Coordinator's Office. Sara was a ray of sunshine who brought silly laughter to so many, leaving them only after having made their lives better. She was always going above and beyond, ensuring others knew how important they were and that they were loved. Sara's the kind of person where you can't help but smile when you think of her. A Celebration of her Life will be held on Saturday, January 6, 2018 at 2PM at Fairland Brethren in Christ Church, 529 W. Penn Ave, Cleona, PA 17042. There will be a viewing held from 12-2PM at the church prior to the service. Interment will take place at United Zion Cemetery, Annville.

“ Sara was a beautiful, fun woman. She worked a short time with us at the Holy Spirit breast center and I loved every minute with her. She was steady, patient, kind and smart. When things got hectic she was a calm rock in the sea. She also loved her boys and was so proud of them. I was amazed at all the different things she was handling at that time. She will be missed by many. Thoughts and prayers with her husband, sons and other family and friends.
Sincerely, Kelli Scurfield

“ I want to express my deepest sympathy to Sara's boys, Jordan, Quincy, Cole, to her new husband, Angel, to her siblings Michael, Barbara, and Cindy, and to the extended Miller, Nissley, and DeJesus families. Almost forty years ago I had the joy of being a member of the Miller family. I remember Sara's beautiful singing voice and the lovely music that she created with the golden flute that Rod had given her. Even though I was no longer a member of the Miller family, they all treated me as if I were. When I knew Sara she was finishing high school and going to nursing school. The material that she was expected to learn was so difficult that I joked that she should receive a doctorate upon completion of her degree. When Sara's beloved mother was in the Hershey Medical Center we spent more time together than ever. The other sisters were very busy with babies at the time. When we ate in the cafeteria she joked about the cute doctors and received many flirty smiles in return. I asked her why no one looked at me she told me that I gave out an aura of , "Stay away from me", and that I acted like I was ice and behind a wall that no one should try to approach. She made me laugh. I guess God was saving me for Ed.

Her mom, Lois, was my "adopted mother", and even after our divorce, all the siblings and her parents still treated me as family. I had no living relatives and I was blessed to know them. I was at her wedding to Rod and knew what a wonderful mother she became to Jordan, Quincy, and Cole. The boys were extraordinary and grew up surrounded by love and faith.

I grieve for all of the people who loved her and I pray for God to wrap you all in a blanket of love and peace as you deal with this nightmare. I will see everyone on Saturday.

Blessings and love,
Deb Ellis

“ I only worked with Sara for a very short time but her smile always seemed to light up the day. The color yellow that she always had all over her cubicle seemed to mirror her personality...I will always think of her when I see that color and I know it will bring a smile to my face. Such a warm, kind, loving soul; an angel in disguise. My thoughts are with her family. ---Deneane Mowery

Sara cared for our daughter when she was a baby over night and started back a few months ago. She is one of the most kind hearted people we had the pleasure of knowing. Compassionate and definitely touched hearts! Beautiful inside and out. Sending our condolences to Jordan, Quincy, Cole and her husband. #gonebutneverforgotten

“ I remember meeting Sara at Mother's Time back in the 1990's -- she had a beautiful and infectious laugh. I was walking last summer and ran into her -- we smiled and chatted for a few minutes. What a wonderful woman. I am praying for her family.
