My husband and I were friends with Scott and Ida when the 4 of us were only dating. We enjoyed many gatherings at the Bates residence when we were younger and had great times together. Later in life after marriage and kids we were lucky enough to meet again almost on a weekly basis at the Cleona Giant. We met each other children, remembered the good old days, and talked about how life is just so damn busy, challenging and rewarding just the same.

Hurts our hearts dearly to lose this old friend. Sending love and hugs to the family.

I will always cherish many many memories from years ago when we were all young and healthy. I admired Scott from the first time I ever met him, he was a wonderful boyfriend to my life-long friend, Ida, and I was very blessed when I was asked to be the Maid of Honor in their wedding. I couldn't have asked for a better husband for my dear friend. I have very fond memories of our many nights out and bonfires and just being crazy youngings! Over the years, life got busy with work and kids and we barely got time to spend together. I would go visit Ida and help her out and she always spoke so highly of her wonderful husband, Scott and how much he did for her and the boys. Thank you Scott, thank you for always being a wonderful friend to me. I will forever be grateful for meeting such a kind soul. I am sure your heart was broken over Ida's health deteriorating. RIP my friend...until we meet again!

Funny thing is, Scott, I've had you on my mind the last few weeks. Wished we could've met up again. Such a nice guy. You were always a good friend to my brother Neil Kohr and so very good to my mom, Sandy. You, Ida and the boys were very important to her. I still have the teddy bear stuffed animal you gave her on that last Christmas just days before she passed. This hurts my heart, especially for your family. Such a loss. Another one gone way too soon. Hope you can reunite with your friends and loved ones. May God take care of you now.
