“ *Thinking about play acting Roy Rogers and Dale Evans scenes in Jamie's backyard in Linglestown has always brought forth fond memories of my cousins. Especially impish towheaded Teddy Gilmartin. He never failed to liven things up with his sunny smile.
This is the way I will always remember him in spite of distance and time. Rest in peace dear cousin. You will not be forgotten.

“ R.I.P. Teddy, I will miss your drive by's yelling at me. My favorite memory with Ted is when he came to me asking for help with his Mom. So I went to his house and gave her a nice bath, she was so excited after she was done, she went to her jewelry box to put on her favorite pin. He couldn't believe she remembered her pin. The smile on both of their faces was the best gift ever to me! No more sorrow, no more pain. The time will come when we meet again. #Classof'77
