“ My heart aches for you everyday, but I keep going, people tell me he is always with you, look for the signs, YOU of all people know how chicken I am but I have been, the morning I cried for you and Lady in Red came on the radio, It was scary but the tears stopped. I knew that was your way of saying you were here. You always told me that song was to me. Last night crying and turning on a movie that I felt like i lived these past 8 months. P.S. I Love You, Oh Will I still hope that you will walk through our door. The kids are doing so well but my heart aches for them as i know they will never have you to be there for all the moments you should be there for. We are surrounded by good people, each and everyone has been there for us and continues to be out of the goodness of their hearts. I love you, William. Keep watching over us.....

“ So many times we needed you So many times we cried If love alone could have saved you You never would have died A heart of gold stopped beating Two twinkling eyes closed to rest God broke our hearts to prove he only took the very best Never a day goes by that you're not in my heart and my soul

“ Babe, Today Alyssa and I had a breakfast to attend, I know you must be so proud of her, student of the month again. Only this time a breakfast was given in her honor where she gave a speech and was presented with a certificate and check. She did beautiful, she choked alittle when she had to talk about us. Each milestone with them is so hard not having you here to share it with us. I love you and miss you so much. Keep watching over us.....

“ We did it!! The Out of the Darkness Community walk in Harrisburg was a huge success. I was the team captain and our team name is "Walking for Will - All in" in your honor. My team was the number one fundraiser of all participating teams and I'm second in individual fundraising but people are still donating so I'm sure I'll make the top fundraiser too. We wore shirts that we made with your picture on it...everyone loved it. It was such a great feeling knowing that we are helping others in your memory. Your legacy of helping others will continue through me and the family - I promise that. I'm glad we did it...it was very emotional for us because we miss you so much but it has also helped us. We are looking forward to it next year...

“ Will...I love and miss you soooo much. It's been so hard trying to adjust to a life with you not here. I would give anything to see you again...talk to you again...hug you again... You don't know how much we all miss you. I'm doing a walk in your honor tomorrow for the American foundation of Suicide Prevention. I'm hoping that somehow, someday, I'll be able to help someone else thats in a similar situation that you were in, since I wasn't given the chance to help you. I know you'd be proud of me. I've been doing some fundraising to help provide awareness because not many people are aware of the statistics. I love you and until we meet again....

“ We attended a mass tonight in your memory, I hope you heard our prayers. This has been a really bad week for all of us, we are missing you dearly. Words cannot express the guilt, anger, emptiness and pain we feel that you are not here with us. I never wouldâ€™ve thought in a million years that we would have to plan our brotherâ€™s funeral. It was the hardest thing to do but we stood right by your side until the very end. Our lives will never be the same without you. A brother can never be replaced. It breaks our heart that you felt you had to find peace in death. We watch the videos that you left for us every day and read the messages over and over. Things are clearer now but we would give anything to have you back. Sleep peacefully, as we will be together again because each day that passes brings us closer to seeing you and our family chain will once again be complete.
